

Water Regulations

This one day course covers the Water Supply (Water Fittings) Regulations 1999 (England and Wales) and meet the requirements of WRAS (the Water Regulations Advisory Scheme) of which the majority of the UK water companies are members.

Most plumbers will be aware that at some point in the near future water will be classified as a controlled service. As such it will be essential that anyone working with a water system has the appropriate training and knowledge of water regulations.

This 1 day course covers the Water Supply (Water Fittings) Regulations 1999 (England and Wales)) and meets the requirements of WRAS (the Water Regulations Advisory Scheme) of which the majority of the UK water companies are members.

Beat the rush and get ahead of the competition by booking this 1 day Water Regulations training course.